

Epistle from Jahi Benjamin

Everyone has to choose a path, to figure what's their life purpose. My Father choose a path of self autonomy, self governance and understanding of times. He has taken the Rastafari way that I grew up as into a more enriched understanding of what people of color have come from, are dealing with, and the future of that life, the evidence is all around.