13. QUALIFICATIONS: What in your opinion qualifies you to serve the People of the Virgin Islands in the position which the Governor has nominated you?

I was born and raised in Frederiksted, St. Croix, and spent nearly every day in town visiting my mom at her workplace. Later, my mother owned her own business in Frederiksted for over 20 years. This experience has given me a unique perspective on the changes that have occurred over the years, the needs of the town's residents, and the ability to research and explore the resources required to address those needs. Over the years, I've spent most of my time living in Frederiksted, first quietly as a renter and now as a homeowner. This summer marks my 16th year of homeownership. It feels long overdue for me to speak up and make a meaningful impact in any way I can. That's why working with the Virgin Islands Historic Preservation Commission feels like the perfect opportunity.

As an experienced government employee, I recognize the need for constant communication with the community. My first short-term goal is to improve community engagement by opening more channels of communication between the commission and residents to better understand their needs and concerns. My second goal is to provide clarity on the application process for both current and future applicants, as I've already started attending virtual meetings to observe the review process. My third and fourth goals are linked to these efforts. I aim to create an awareness campaign within the towns, highlighting areas in urgent need of preservation and restoration. While funding may be a challenge, identifying these needs will demonstrate the importance of preserving our towns. Long-term, I plan to secure sustainable funding for projects, build connections with local organizations, develop educational outreach programs, and create a preservation master plan for future generations of business owners and homeowners.
